

From its name it would appear to be an alternate form of a dialect spoken in the Jigalong area, named Matutjara by Douglas, but Tindale's mapping, if correct places Mardo S.W. of Lake Disappointment and this dialect in the Kalgoorlie area. If correctly placed here, neither is it the Madu Wonga mentioned by Elkin in the Gugada (S.A.) area (derived from mađu 'true' according to Platt).

- 56.2u Naanadjara (Nana) North of Lake Carnegie (von B) A38 (AIAS A37)

Naanatjarra (von B), Nana (AC), Nan:a (T), Nanajara (von B), Nanata djara (T)

von Brandenstein says this is a Western Desert dialect but should not be called a Pitjantjatjara dialect and is not really related to Ngadadjara of Warburton Ranges. With no information other than the above it is impossible to guess with which dialects it is most closely affiliated.

- 56.2x Walyen A34 (AIAS A11)

Walyen (O'G, 'RLS'), Wa:ljen (T)

Tindale mapped south of Lake Carey but apart from that no information at all.

- 56.2y Tjeraridjal A9 (AIAS A7)

Only Tindale's mapping, south of Nangadadjara territory.

- 56.2z Murunitja (AIAS A8)

Name occurs in Berndt's map (Oceania XII,4,1942) in the Cundeelee area, but it is a derogatory name given to the people at Cundeelee by another group of people visited by Berndt. (WHD).

- 56.2an Julbre A19 (AIAS A67)

Named by Tindale and assumed to be the same as Yulbaridja, 'RLS' 56.2ao. See however comment 56.10b*.
